MAURICIO POCHETTINO

"I WAS SO PROUD OF MY PLAYERS FOR THE PERFORMANCE AT THE BERNABEU. WE PLAYED WITHOUT FEAR AND TOOK THE GAME TO ONE OF THE BEST TEAMS IN THE WORLD"

Good afternoon and welcome back to Wembley. I was so proud of my players for the performance at the Bernabeu on Wednesday against Real Madrid.

Ever since I arrived at the club we have been building and the result and performance showed how far we have come and how we can compete at the highest level.

We played without fear and took the game to one of the best teams in the world at their home ground. We showed discipline and flexibility to use a new system and this type of performance gives us extra belief and confidence to take forward.

Our building job is not finished though. We are ambitious and have wider objectives, first to qualify from the group and then to keep improving to win things, both in Europe and domestically.

I would also like to thank you for your support in Spain. It is not always easy to make yourselves heard in a big arena like that. All game we could hear you and your songs and that helped give us a lift and inspiration. The celebrations looked a lot of fun and I hope you enjoyed the evening.

Now our focus is on today's match and keeping up our momentum as we welcome Liverpool and their manager Jurgen Klopp to Wembley. They are a top team with many dangerous players and we need to be at our best again.

We have won our last three Premier League games and I was pleased with the result against Bournemouth here last Saturday. Although it was not our best performance, we did not give up and found a way to win the game against a spirited side.

We find ourselves in the middle of a busy run of matches and must keep our focus and momentum game-by-game.

We are pleased to be welcoming back key players from injury and the competition for places in the team is strong.

Enjoy the game.

CLUB AND AIA PROMOTE HEALTH AND WELLBEING IN THAILAND

Our Global Coaching team worked with a group of 24 elite young players in Phuket, Thailand last week as part of an AIA initiative.

Anton Blackwood and Danny Mitchell are based in Asia to promote our Principal Partner's 'Longer, Healthier and Better Lives' programme using football as a vehicle to promote physical wellbeing, motivation and decision-making.

The coaches, both trained within the Club's Academy, selected the players, aged 12-14, from three training camps delivered across Thailand recently in Bangkok, Chonburi and Chiang Mai.

The group took part in two elite training sessions a day and a classroom session around nutrition and living life as a professional footballer.

It forms part of a wider long-term programme across Asia in partnership with AIA, using authentic Tottenham Hotspur coaching to promote health and wellbeing across the region.

Proud Hugo happy with progress

Ahead of a Tuesday night's clash at the Bernabeu, Hugo Lloris described our Champions League match against Real Madrid as 'a great opportunity' and as it turned out, it was one we grasped with both hands.

In the end, it wasn't just the result, but the manner of our performance that left all Spurs fans echoing Hugo's words of "we can be proud" after the 1-1 draw.

Mauricio Pochettino played two up front as Fernando Llorente joined Harry Kane in a 3-5-2 system. Harry's fellow Academy graduate Harry Winks, just 21, relished the midfield battle against Luka Modric, Toni Kroos and Casemiro – the midfield trio that started the Champions League Final in June as Madrid were crowned Champions of Europe for the 12th time. In fact, 10 of their line-up on Tuesday started that night in Cardiff.

Hugo described his defence in the Bernabeu as 'heroic' and, of course, the skipper was also there when needed with two breath-taking saves to deny Karim Benzema and Cristiano Ronaldo in the second half.

The draw left both teams with identical records at the top of Group H. APOEL and Borussia Dortmund also drew in Nicosia, leaving us six points clear with three group matches remaining.

"As I said to Harry and the young players, don't forget where we've come from," reflected Hugo. "Three seasons ago we were in the Europa League and last season we were a bit disappointed with our performances in the Champions League, but now we can be proud because we have shown the right character.

"It was a great challenge for our young team, a great opportunity to show the face of Tottenham against the best club in the world."

John Chiedozie takes on Liverpool's Alan Kennedy

THE WAIT IS OVER!

Andy Greeves tells a story from our vast history that has a link to our matchday opponents. This afternoon, we look back at an historic victory for us against Liverpool at Anfield on March 16, 1985.

Home to Liverpool Football Club since their formation in 1892, Anfield is one of the most iconic arenas in world football. The ground has witnessed numerous league title successes, exhilarating European nights and is, of course, home to the famous Spion Kop.

We first visited Anfield back on March 26, 1910, during our debut season in the top flight of English league football, going down to a 1-0 defeat to Liverpool that afternoon. Our second and third appearances at the venue both yielded away wins though. Strikes from Percy Humphreys and Billy Minter gave us a 2-1 success there on October 29, 1910, while Thomas Mason and Ernie Newman were on target for us in another 2-1 triumph on March 16, 1912.

Our victorious players back in 1912 would have been unaware of the significance of the result they had just achieved. Because thereafter, it would take us some 73 years and 44 visits to Anfield before we finally won there again in 1985. In between, we lost 28 and drew 15 of our 43 matches at that ground in all competitions.

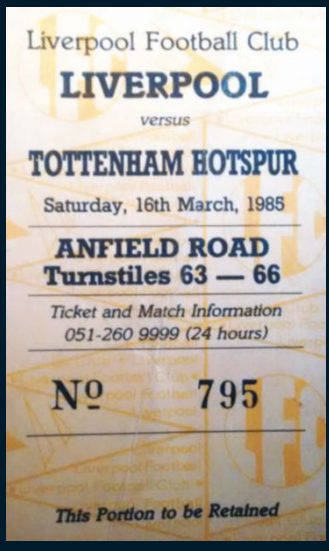
There were some particularly painful defeats in that time, such as a crushing 7-2 loss on October 31, 1914. Then on September 2, 1978, we went down to our record league defeat as we were beaten 7-0. On May 15, 1982, meanwhile, Liverpool's 3-1 victory over us in L4 saw them seal the Division One title for the 13th time.

Our home record against Liverpool during the same period contrasted with our form on Merseyside, as we won 22 games, drew 11 and lost just 12. Those results against the Reds at White Hart Lane compounded the mystery of why we couldn't win on the road.

Tottenham Tales

Further evidence of our Anfield hoodoo came during the 1962-63 season, as we finished second in the Division One table while the Reds were eighth. We lost 5-2 away to Liverpool on April 12, 1963, but just three days later we hammered the same opponents 7-2 at the Lane, with Jimmy Greaves getting four goals!

Exactly 73 years on from our last victory at Anfield – on March 16, 1985 – we visited the ground for a Division One clash with Liverpool. At the time, we were second in the league table – just two points off leaders Everton – while the Reds were fourth. We had missed the chance to go top with a 2-1 home defeat to Manchester United four days prior to our trip to Merseyside.



A lively first half saw both sides fashion good opportunities to score. Early on, Kenny Dalglish played a one-two with Ian Rush, with his low shot forcing a fine save from ex-Red Ray Clemence. At the other end, John Chiedozie spearheaded a quick counter-attack, but was ultimately unable to beat Bruce Grobbelaar at his near post having run with the ball from the halfway line to the Liverpool penalty area. Garth Crooks also had close-range header from a corner saved by Grobbelaar.

The best chance of the half came from a Liverpool set piece, which was met by a powerful header from Steve Nicol. His effort was bound for the top corner, only for Clemence to tip the ball onto the crossbar before he collected the rebound effort from Rush. Danny Thomas also headed Ray Kennedy's volley off our goal-line short before the half-time interval.

Shortly after the match

PAT'S THE HERO

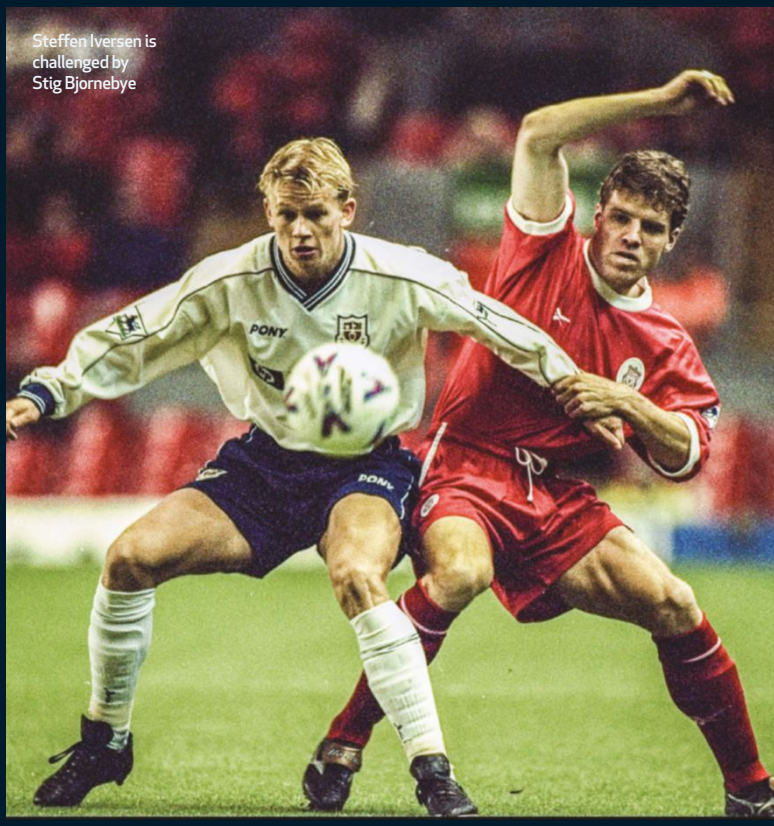
On March 31, 1973, goalkeeper Pat Jennings helped secure us a 1-1 draw at Anfield with a string of fine saves which included not one, but two penalty stops from Liverpool's Kevin Keegan and Tommy Smith.

Writing in his autobiography, 'Big Pat' commented on his showing that day;

"I was having a good season (1972-73) and, in fact, was voted as Footballer of the Year by the Football Writers' Association at the end of it, and I've no doubt my double penalty save (against Liverpool) helped me win the award.

"Although those saves earned a great deal of publicity, it has to be admitted that neither was exactly in the super class. Kevin Keegan and Tommy Smith, who took the kicks, must both have been annoyed they didn't connect as cleanly as they intended.

"On each occasion, I simply picked the right direction to go and stopped both shots without a great deal of bother. I made four or five better ones in the game which gave me considerably more satisfaction."



Steffen Iversen is challenged by Stig Bjornebye resumed, substitute Micky Hazard hit a tremendous volley towards Grobbelaar's far post. The goalkeeper pulled off a great save with his fingertips, but the ball fell at the feet of Crooks, who smashed it into the back of the Liverpool net at the Kop end.

A fine defensive display thereafter restricted the Reds' chances of getting an equaliser, though Clemence was required to make one great save from Phil Neal near the end. Referee Ken Baker's full-time whistle heralded scenes of great celebration as our long quest for a victory at Anfield came to an end while our title push continued.

Liverpool exacted some revenge for that defeat, finishing second in the league table while we were third. Both sides had 77 points, but the Reds had a superior goal difference.

Like proverbial London buses, having waited so long for a league win at Liverpool, a second came along relatively swiftly with another 1-0 triumph there on October 11, 1986. Clive Allen got our winner that day in front of a crowd of 43,139.

Anfield has continued to be a tricky place for us to get a result, with just five victories and eight draws in 35 visits to the ground (including a Screen Sport Super Cup match in 1985) since our 1985 win. In addition to the 1986 success, two victories have come in the Premier League, as we won 2-1 on August 25, 1993, thanks to a Teddy Sheringham brace while Rafael van der Vaart and Luka Modric scored in our 2-0 triumph on May 15, 2011.

Jurgen Klinsmann netted a memorable, last-minute goal in our 2-1 FA Cup victory at Anfield on March 11, 1995, in a game that had seen Sheringham equalise for us. We also triumphed 3-1 in a League Cup tie on November 10, 1998, with strikes from Steffen Iversen, John Scales and Allan Nielsen as we went on to lift the trophy that season.

Eric Dier believes we produced a real statement performance in Madrid on Tuesday evening, but he's never one to rest on his laurels and knows we still have plenty of room for improvement.

And, if we are able to improve another few levels from that mature and composed display in the Bernabeu, then that can only signal a bright future ahead.

After a highly successful round of matches for English teams in the Champions League this week – which saw all five Premier League sides sitting top of their respective groups following Matchday Three – it was our 1-1 draw in Spain against the reigning European Champions which drew the most plaudits.

It wasn't just the result, achieved after we opened the scoring courtesy of a Raphael Varane own goal which was cancelled out by Cristiano Ronaldo's penalty just before half-time, that caught the eye. Anyone watching the game will have seen us turn in a competitive and disciplined performance, one in which we created many good chances to add to our tally while all the time being defensively strong. By no means was this a backs-to-the-wall, lucky to escape with a point, type of display.

However, for all the positivity and confidence that has come from the match, Eric feels that we cannot get too carried away and that this is just another step along the way for this squad to achieve great things.

The England international produced a typically determined display as part of our backline at the famous Santiago Bernabeu and, when speaking a couple of days after the game, was able to reflect on a job well done.

"I think the game was a benchmark for us, another step forward in this progression that we've been on together as a squad over the last three years," he revealed.

"Of course, we can look back on the performance and the result, take positives from it and use it as motivation going forward as well. The key thing was that we competed from the first whistle to the last and we did so while missing a number of players. I don't think that has been mentioned enough, but it shows the strength in depth we have.

"I've heard people say it was a mature performance and that's good to hear because we are still quite a young side in terms of actual ages. Madrid are full of stars with plenty of experience so it's a real sign of the progress we've made.

"But while we did show how far we have come, playing in the game also showed how far there is to go if we are to become what we want to be – one of the best.

"We have to take a step back and appreciate that, while going to one of the hardest places to play in Europe and leave with a point is a positive, at the same time there is a lot more we can learn and improve on."

And that sums Eric up in a nutshell! Fiercely competitive and always looking to enhance his game, it's that attitude which has seen him become such an important member of Mauricio Pochettino's squad, with his versatility enabling him to be deployed in defence or midfield.

He's also well-placed to discuss the qualities of one of the stars of Tuesday's night, Harry Winks, who was trusted by his manager to take on a midfield role against the likes of former Spur Luka Modric and German international Toni Kroos.

The 21-year-old rose to the challenge on what was only his 45th appearance for us and Eric was full of praise for his team-mate.

"Winksy was fantastic on the night, his progression has been brilliant. He's a top player and he showed that again in Madrid," added Eric. "He had a tough six months, picking up that injury last season just at a time when he was hitting some good form. But the last two or three weeks have been good – making his England debut and then playing so well against Real Madrid.

"Hopefully he'll keep working hard, keep improving and will be an important player for Tottenham and England as well."

While we were holding Madrid in midweek, today's opponents Liverpool were producing an eye-catching result of their own as they destroyed Maribor 7-0 in Slovenia, recording their best-ever away win in the Champions League in the process.

It means both teams come into today's game full of confidence for what should be a real cracker here at Wembley Stadium. Jurgen Klopp's side certainly have the upperhand over us in recent seasons – we're without a win against them in our last 10 encounters – but Eric is determined to put that right today.

"They've certainly been a difficult team to play against lately," he said. "You build up a history with teams down the years and ours isn't too positive against Liverpool at the moment, so obviously we want to change that.

"Both teams are doing well and play really exciting football so it should be an entertaining game for the neutral and a great one to play in as well. Winning at home last week was a big result for us, now we need to maintain that form."

And, having surprised everyone by adopting

CAREER SO FAR

EARLY DAYS

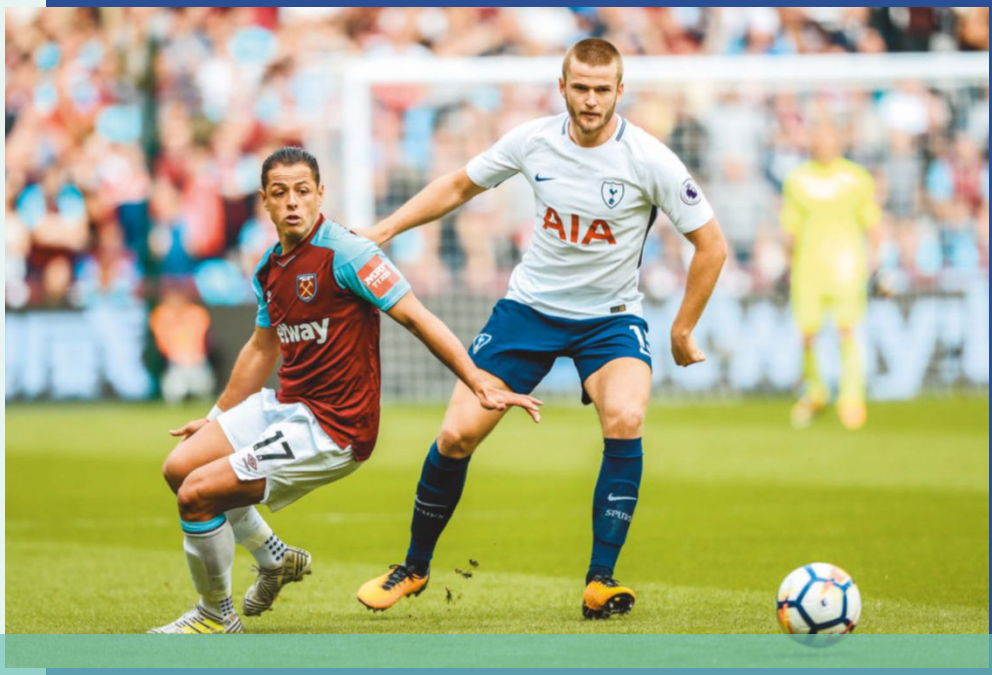
Born in Cheltenham in January, 1994, Eric moved to Lisbon in Portugal with his family at the age of seven and within a year, his footballing talents saw him join Sporting's youth set up.

SPORTING PROWESS

Turned professional with the Lisbon club in April, 2010, but returned to England for a loan spell with Everton between January-June, 2011, featuring for their Under-18s.

BREAKING THROUGH

Back with Sporting, he featured for their 'B' side in August, 2012, stepping up for his professional debut against SC Braga in the Portuguese top flight on November 11 that year. His first goal came 15 days later, against Moreirense.



"BOTH TEAMS PLAY REALLY EXCITING FOOTBALL SO IT SHOULD BE AN ENTERTAINING GAME FOR THE NEUTRAL AND A GREAT ONE TO PLAY IN AS WELL"

a formation featuring two strikers against Real Madrid on Tuesday – with Fernando Llorente joining Harry Kane up front – Mauricio proved just how tactically flexible we are as a team with Eric insisting that attribute gives us another very positive string to our bow.

"I've said it before, the process that we've been going through over the last three years means we've built up that repertoire in our formations and makes us very adaptable," he continued. "That comes from hard work and being together as a group for a while now.

"We have the option to play in a number of different ways and, importantly, be effective in all of them.

"That makes it a real challenge for teams playing against us, they can never be sure how we're going to line up."

LONDON BOUND

Joined us in August, 2014, scoring a memorable winner on his debut away to West Ham that month. Has established himself as a versatile member of the squad, equally adept in defence or midfield, and is currently three games short of 150 appearances for us.

ENGLAND DUTY

Made his senior debut for the Three Lions as a substitute against Spain in November, 2015, scoring his first goal for his country to give England a 3-2 win over Germany in Berlin in March, 2016. Capped 21 times.

On the agenda today...

HUGO LLORIS' FORM

The back pages on Wednesday morning were full of praise for our team and in particular Hugo Lloris after the Frenchman's terrific saves helped us escape with a 1-1 draw at Real Madrid in the Champions League.

Our agile goalkeeper and skipper saved from Cristiano Ronaldo a handful of times before pulling off a miraculous stop with his feet to deny Karim Benzema from point-blank range in a save reminiscent of his 'combat roll' across his own goal-line at Bayer Leverkusen in the same competition this time last year.

It wasn't just at the Bernabeu that the 30-year-old was at his decisive best either. He made another excellent stop on his line during last weekend's slender victory over AFC Bournemouth here at Wembley – something that today's panel, which features three goalkeepers, quickly pointed out...

How would you sum up Hugo's current form after his display against Real Madrid?

PAULO: "His performance in Madrid was unbelievable. He is one of the best goalkeepers in the world and he showed on Tuesday the quality that he has. The save from Benzema's header was unbelievable. Everyone was thinking it was a goal but in the last second, he stretched out his body, it was a fantastic save and that kept us in the game so it was very, very important for us. Thanks to his saves it was a great result for us in the end."

PAT: "He made three or four saves on Tuesday that were brilliant. It was just a matter of getting the barrier up (for Benzema's header) but he still had to react. It was so close, it was just an incredible block. You just try to spread yourself to make yourself as big as possible but to get a block in and to react from that sort of range, just two or three yards away, it's unbelievable stuff. The one at Wembley against Bournemouth last week as well – he keeps doing it. It seems like we're taking it for granted that he makes saves like that now because that's how good he is. You've got to react but his agility is so good – he's got everything."

CHARLIE: "After watching the game, actually being there in the Bernabeu, really close to the pitch and seeing it in the flesh, myself and Jonathan De Bie (fellow Under-18s goalkeeper) were talking and saying how un-humanlike his reactions were. It's all the things he's been working on in training that you can see – he drops deep to his line to give himself more time to make reaction saves. That was the main thing that stood out and you could see him thinking clearly under pressure as well. Being there, the atmosphere and the noise was immense and even when he was taking goal-kicks there were thousands of people whistling behind him but he was still clear in what he was doing. He was very impressive and he showed leadership like always as well."

What qualities does Hugo have to be able to continue producing excellent displays?

PAULO: "He is a very complete goalkeeper and that is why he is one of the best in the world. He is agile, he plays well, he's really fit and he talks a lot in the box. Training with him is unbelievable because he doesn't know that he's teaching me! I try to follow his footsteps. He is a very humble guy and if he can help you, he will. He's always trying to push you. That is very important. Even in the changing room he talks with the players that he needs to push, so he might look quiet to some people but when he talks, the message is clear."

PAT: "You know what I think – I wouldn't change him for anybody, he's different class. As you get older, you get more experience and you're pushing people about in front of you, filling in the gaps. He sets an example and the team are responding to it. As the captain, he's obviously the player the rest of the team have got total respect for. I can remember watching him in the Republic of Ireland's matches against France in the qualifiers for the 2010 World Cup, as far back as that, long before he came to Tottenham and thinking what a great goalkeeper he was at that time. I admired him before he ever came to us. What he's been through with the French national team and the games he's played with Tottenham every year, it all adds up. They say you never stop learning in football but he's way ahead and hopefully he's only going to get better."

What do you think of the way Hugo approaches the big games, such as this afternoon's Premier League clash with Liverpool?

CHARLIE: "He plays week in, week out and when he's up against the smaller teams he doesn't think any differently. He'll be exactly the same with his leadership and principles, playing out from the back. Obviously the players sometimes have to adapt their game but mentally, Hugo prepares the same for every game. He's world class."

PAULO: "He never gets daunted. I remember when I played against him for Southampton, I couldn't believe I was playing against that kind of goalkeeper because I hadn't played a lot of top-level matches, so for me to play against him was fantastic. In the years since then he's continued to improve and shown that it doesn't matter what age you are, you can always improve. I think he has been fantastic in all types of matches in the last few years."

PAT: "They say in football that you're only as good as your last game and he had a worldie in Madrid. But that's what goalkeeping is about – it's not your last game, it's what you do in the next one. Hopefully he will have another good game now against Liverpool and the fact we got that win at Wembley against Bournemouth last week, even though we perhaps could have won by more, it's another step in the right direction."

REMEMBER WHEN...

…we last picked up maximum points against Liverpool? Surprisingly, it was as long ago as November, 2012, and we've gone 10 games without a win in all competitions against the Reds since, losing seven of them. But in this fixture five years ago, we made a fast start to the game under the stewardship of Andre Villas-Boas and were 2-0 up just after a quarter of an hour. Just seven minutes were on the clock when Aaron Lennon converted Gareth Bale's low cross and the Welsh winger added our second nine minutes later, firing a 25-yard free-kick past Pepe Reina. In an entertaining affair, our two goalscorers combined to give Liverpool a late lifeline! Steven Gerrard's header was goal-bound when Lennon hacked it off the line, but he could only smash the ball into Bale two yards away and it bounced back into the net. Despite a frantic finish from the visitors, we held on for the win.

ON THIS DAY
October 22

SPURS 1-0 WEST HAM UNITED

A slow start to the 2006-07 season saw us score just five goals and collect eight points from our opening eight games. But we only needed the one goal to beat London rivals West Ham United in our ninth game on this day that season, coming courtesy of our Egyptian striker Mido, his first of the campaign.

SPURS 1-0 BIRMINGHAM CITY

Keith Burkinshaw's team had won three Division One games on the bounce when we travelled to St Andrews on this day in 1983, with Steve Archibald having netted in all three. And both sequences continued at Birmingham as the Scottish international scored the only goal of the game, a feat he repeated in our next match at home to Notts County.

1977
SPURS 9-0 BRISTOL ROVERS

The win which remains our biggest league victory in our history was achieved 40 years ago today. Bristol Rovers were the visitors to the Lane for a Division Two clash and it rained goals that afternoon. Colin Lee, making his debut following a move from Torquay United, scored four times with the late Ian Moores grabbing a hat-trick. Glenn Hoddle and Peter Taylor also scored.

MANAGER:

JURGEN KLOPP

Appointed as Liverpool manager in 2015 to replace Brendan Rodgers, Klopp led the Reds to the League Cup and Europa League finals in his first season on Merseyside and then secured the return of Champions League football last year with a fourth-placed finish. Twice a Bundesliga winner during his seven seasons as Borussia Dortmund boss, his BVB side lost a Champions League final to Bayern Munich at Wembley in 2013.

FORM GUIDE:

Since demolishing Arsenal 4-0 at Anfield in August, Liverpool have only won once in the Premier League but have also only been beaten once, with draws against Burnley, Newcastle and Manchester United in games they dominated proving frustrating for Jurgen Klopp. They haven't won a competitive game at Wembley since beating Everton in the 2012 FA Cup semi-final, but this will be their 39th match here. They played Spurs here in the 1982 League Cup final.

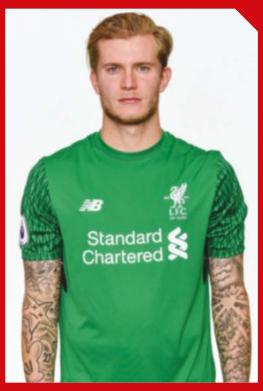
LORIS KARIUS



POSITION: GOALKEEPER
DATE OF BIRTH: 22.06.93
Signed from Mainz 05 by Jurgen Klopp in 2016, Karius has been selected for Liverpool's Champions League group stage games this season having only temporarily displaced Mignolet last season. The German goalkeeper was with Manchester City between 2009 and 2012 but didn't make a first-team appearance and could make his Wembley debut this afternoon.

22

SIMON MIGNOLET

POSITION: GOALKEEPER
DATE OF BIRTH: 06.03.88
First choice goalkeeper in the Premier League, Belgian international Mignolet is now in his fifth season at Anfield and is edging closer to his 200th appearance for the club. During that time he's earned a reputation as a penalty-saving expert having saved eight spot-kicks – including two this season – which is just one less than Liverpool and Spurs legend Ray Clemence saved for LFC.

DEJAN LOVREN

POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 05.07.89
One of only two current Croatian internationals playing in the Premier League, Everton's Nikola Vlasic being the other, Lovren arrived on Merseyside from Southampton in 2014 and has formed a central defensive partnership with Joel Matip under Klopp. He began his career with Dinamo Zagreb and also spent three-and-a-half seasons with Lyon before moving to England.

LEADING BY EXAMPLE

Liverpool's skipper Jordan Henderson has produced 18 tackles in the league this season – the highest number in the Reds' squad. Spanish full-back Alberto Moreno is second on the list, with 15, followed by Joe Gomez on 13.

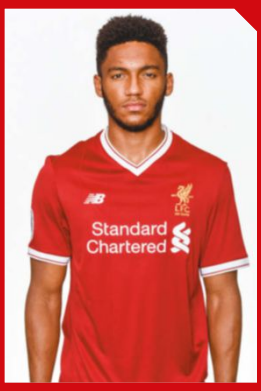
12

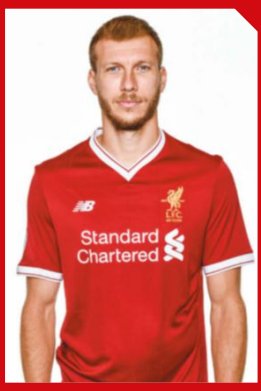
JOE GOMEZ



POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 23.05.97
Appointed as captain of England Under-21s in August, 20-year-old Gomez missed an entire year of football after suffering an ACL injury while on international duty in October, 2015, just four months after signing for the Reds from Charlton Athletic. Capable of playing at right-back or centrally, Gomez has never played against Spurs before, nor at Wembley.

17

RAGNAR KLAVAN



POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 30.10.85
Due to turn 32 a week on Monday, Klavan is the oldest player in Jürgen Klopp's Liverpool squad with James Milner and Adam Bogdan being the only other over-30s. Signed from Augsburg in the summer of 2016, Klavan is a four-time Estonian Footballer of the Year, has captained Estonia since 2012 and was an Eredivisie winner while on loan with AZ Alkmaar in 2008-09.

ALBERTO MORENO

POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 05.07.92
A scorer in this fixture at White Hart Lane in 2014, Moreno lost his place at left-back to James Milner last season but has forced his way back into Jurgen Klopp's plans. Signed from Sevilla, where he was a Europa League winner, Moreno is one of five Spaniards to have made over 100 appearances for Liverpool along with Pepe Reina, Xabi Alonso, Fernando Torres and Luis Garcia.

32

JOEL MATIP

8 APPEARANCES

DATE OF BIRTH: 08.08.91
Bochum-born Matip made his professional debut with Schalke 04 in 2009, netting against Bayern Munich, and went on to make over 200 appearances for Die Königsblauen, scoring 23 times, before a 2016 move to Merseyside. Matip, who represented Cameroon at World Cup 2014, played 32 times in his debut campaign for the Reds with his only goal coming in London at Crystal Palace.

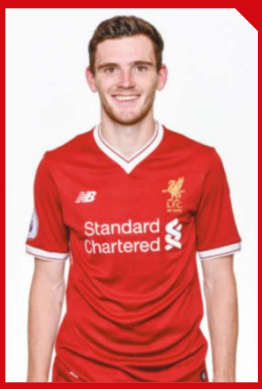
ANDY ROBERTSON



POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 11.03.94
Scottish international left-back Robertson was playing part-time for Queens Park until 2013 when he was signed by Dundee United and had such an impressive year at Tannadice that he won PFA Scotland Young Player of the Year. A move to Hull City followed where, in three seasons, he experienced two Premier League relegations and a promotion before joining Liverpool in July.

TRENT ALEXANDER-ARNOLD 66

POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 07.10.98
Tipped by Steven Gerrard to be a future Liverpool star when he was just 16, Scouser Alexander-Arnold began his career as a central midfielder at youth level before being converted into a right-back. The teenager made his Reds debut against Spurs in the League Cup a year ago on Wednesday and netted his first goal against Hoffenheim in a Champions League qualifier in August.

GEORGINIO WIJNALDUM 5

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 11.11.90
After four years with Feyenoord and a further four at PSV Eindhoven, Dutch international Wijnaldum signed for Newcastle in 2015 and scored 11 goals in his sole season with the Magpies. He moved on to Liverpool last year and netted six times in his debut season for the Reds, all of them at Anfield, while he is a former Dutch Footballer of the Year.

JORDAN HENDERSON 14

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 17.06.90
Now Liverpool's longest serving player, Henderson was signed by Kenny Dalglish from Sunderland in 2011 and is the only man in the Reds' squad to have appeared over 200 times for the club. Appointed as captain in 2015 following Steven Gerrard's departure, Henderson has also skippered England on three occasions and arrives here today looking for his 25th goal in a red shirt.

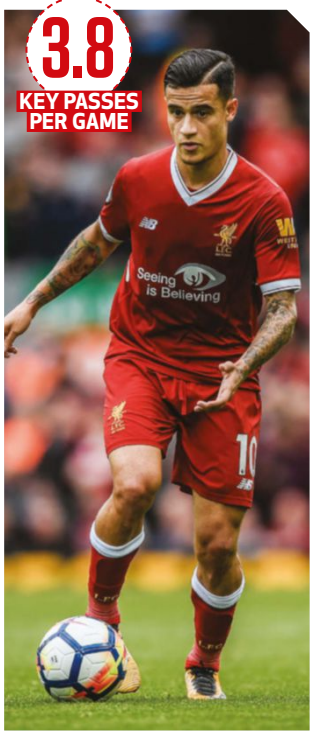
JAMES MILNER

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 04.01.86
The scorer of Liverpool's last goal at White Hart Lane when he converted a penalty last August, Milner spent most of 2016-17 at left-back but has been utilised in a more familiar midfield role this season. The Reds' vice-captain has now made more than 600 appearances in a career that has also taken him to Leeds, Newcastle, Aston Villa and Man City.

10

PHILIPPE COUTINHO



POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 11.11.90
Barcelona were reportedly prepared to pay in excess of £100m to take Brazilian playmaker Coutinho to the Nou Camp during the summer but Liverpool held on to their prize asset and he's in goalscoring form. Coutinho has now netted 17 goals from outside the penalty area – three more than any other player has managed in the Premier League since he arrived from Inter Milan in 2013.

16

MARKO GRUJIC

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 13.04.96
Yet to start a Premier League game, Grujic was a FIFA Under-20 World Cup winner with Serbia in 2015 and a Serbian SuperLiga winner with Red Star Belgrade in 2016 having been loaned back to the club after agreeing to move to Merseyside in January of that year. The Serbian international scored for the Reds at Wembley in a 4-0 pre-season win against Barcelona 14 months ago.

PASS AND MOVE

Brazilian forward Roberto Firmino leads the way for assists for Liverpool this season, directly setting up two goals for his team-mates in the Premier League so far this campaign. He has also recorded an average of 2.1 key passes per game in the league.

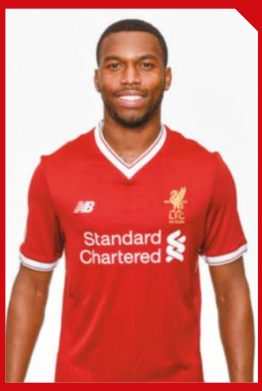
21 ALEX OXLADE-CHAMBERLAIN

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 15.08.93
After six seasons with Arsenal where he netted 20 goals in 198 games, Oxlade-Chamberlain completed an August move to Anfield. A product of Southampton's youth system, he had joined the Gunners aged 17 and has now been capped 30 times by England with one of his six international goals coming at Wembley.

23 EMRE CAN

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 12.01.94
A 2014 Anfield arrival from Bayer Leverkusen, Can has played over 40 games in each of his three seasons as a Liverpool player, operating in both his preferred central midfield role and at centre-half. He began his career with Bayern Munich and has won 18 caps for Germany at international level with his first goal coming against Azerbaijan in Kaiserslautern a fortnight ago.

15 DANIEL STURRIDGE



POSITION: FORWARD
DATE OF BIRTH: 01.09.89
Averaging a goal every other game during his Premier League career with Liverpool, Sturridge has been at Anfield since 2012 although injuries have restricted his appearances during those five years. Capped 26 times by England, the striker has netted five of his eight international goals at Wembley against Montenegro, Denmark, Peru, Malta and Scotland.

11 MOHAMED SALAH

POSITION: FORWARD/WINGER
DATE OF BIRTH: 15.01.92
A club record signing from AS Roma, Salah made a flying start to his Liverpool career, scoring six times in his first eight starts. This is his second spell in England – he made 19 appearances for Chelsea, his last league game being a 5-3 defeat to Spurs at White Hart Lane in 2015 – while earlier this month his goals secured Egypt's World Cup qualification for the first time since 1990.

DOUBLE EDGE

England international Nick Barmby is one of only nine players to have scored goals in the Premier League for six different clubs. And four of the others also played for Spurs!

Indeed, Peter Crouch and Robbie Keane also played for Liverpool – as did Nicolas Anelka and Craig Bellamy who are on that hit list. The other Tottenham marksmen featured are Les Ferdinand and Darren Bent with Andy Cole and Marcus Bent completing the tally.

Born in Hull, Barmby attended the FA's 'School of Excellence' and was in great demand when he signed for us as a trainee in July, 1990. He suffered the frustration of a nagging injury in those early days but his infectious enthusiasm and ready smile kept him going and once he made his debut at Hillsborough in September, 1992, there was no looking back.

An all-action performer of pace and determination, his greatest asset was probably his confidence as he instantly adapted to life at the highest level. Nick left us for Middlesbrough in 1995 and then played for Everton before making the short move to Anfield in July, 2000.

Barmby subsequently represented Leeds United, Nottingham Forest on loan and then Hull City who he later managed. He also won 23 England caps.

LOCAL HERO

Vic Groves scored twice when he made his Spurs debut against Liverpool at White Hart Lane in September, 1952. Tommy Harmer also netted in our 3-1 win with Bryan Williams replying.

Groves, from Stepney, was an amateur at the time and was an England schoolboy international when he signed for us just a couple of months before stepping up for his first team chance. Yet, although a player of great promise, he struggled to build on that impact.

He appeared in just two more games that season and scored the winner at Charlton early in the following campaign. And, although that was it as regards his senior Spurs opportunities, Vic subsequently enjoyed a good career – with his best days coming at Arsenal!

Groves returned to the amateur game with Leytonstone and Walthamstow Avenue before Leyton Orient persuaded him to sign his first professional forms in 1954. He did so well there that he added to his amateur international caps by playing for England 'B' and later for the Under-23s.

He transferred to Highbury in November, 1955, and remained there for the next nine years.

Triple Measure

Jimmy Greaves scored four times when we beat Liverpool 7-2 at White Hart Lane in April, 1963. It was quite a turn-around as the Reds had defeated us 5-2 at Anfield just three days before!

Cliff Jones scored twice with Frank Saul also on target. Roger Hunt (2) notched for Liverpool.

TO-NIGHT'S MATCH

The match this evening brings to a close our session of Division I mid-week matches—a period that gives many a Club manager a headache.

With fixtures falling on one another like ninepins they are bound to bring crop of injuries to players. We have suffered in respect, but the players we have called on to the gaps have played their part extremely well. It was clearly in evidence at Liverpool last Wednesday, when we lost by the odd goal scored on a penalty in the last few minutes. This game earned high praise from the critics, for our boys gave a fine display of football in what one paper termed "the best Spurs' tradition." We led at half-time by a goal scored by Liddy. Liverpool equalised shortly after half-time and then, a few minutes from the final whistle, came the penalty which gave them the points.

Tonight we again meet our friends from Merseyside and we know our players will do their utmost to even the season's deal with them. Anyway, we should witness a good sporting game.

The results of Liverpool's matches to date look very impressive and are as follows:—

Aug. 23	Preston North End (a)	drew 1—1
„ 27	Sheffield Wednesday (h)	won 1—0
„ 30	Stoke City (h)	won 3—2
Sept. 3	Sheffield Wednesday (a)	won 2—0
„ 6	Manchester City (a)	won 2—0
„ 10	Tottenham Hotspur (h)	won 2—1
„ 13	Portsmouth (h)	drew 1—1

SPURS FAIL AT SHEFFIELD

After last Wednesday's game at Liverpool the team travelled to Buxton and then went on to Sheffield for the match with the Wednesday Club on Saturday. A very large crowd witnessed the game and they saw some good football from both sides. The Wednesday had restored the much-publicised Derek Dooley at centre-forward after he had played two games in their Reserve side and scored five goals, but he again failed to score his first League goal in Division I.

We lost by 2 goals to 0, so our second visit to the North this season brought us no further points. Our supporters will remember that on our first visit north a fortnight ago we returned with three points out of four by beating Manchester City and drawing at Newcastle.

DO YOU ? KNOW

1. How often in the game's history has it happened that more than one Third Division club player has appeared for England in an International Championship match?
2. Which player, in the process of making three consecutive appearances, represented in many different clubs?
3. We are told that the Football League do not always record clubs and defeats for their entire history were registered against the same opponents?
4. In which International Championship match during this century did England draw upon players from the smallest number of clubs?
5. Which player first scored for the Football League in an International match? Which player was the first to score for three clubs outside England and following 12 years of first-class football?
6. Of the 12 clubs which have been operating in the Football League ever since its formation in 1888 how many are there which (a) never had as many as five goals scored for them in one match in the competition by any player; (b) never had as many as five registered against them by any player?

MAIN ISSUE

Having just lost 2-1 at Anfield the previous week, the programme was upbeat about this return following a game that saw us lose to a late penalty. The editorial stressed: "This game earned high praise from the critics, for our boys gave a fine display of football in what one paper termed 'the best Spurs tradition.'"

It was our usual four-page production of the time, blue print on white paper that cost twopence. With stats on the back, line-ups and half-times on page three, it still featured news and updates on the cover and page two.

In between the two Liverpool games we had lost 2-0 at Sheffield Wednesday and that game was detailed with Arsenal's upcoming visit previewed. The new handbook was on sale, supporters were encouraged to watch our Junior side at the Cheshunt training ground and skipper Ron Burgess had written a book entitled 'Football – My Life' which "should be in the hands of all football lovers."

Front Page

The year 1952 saw a major train tragedy near Harrow in which 112 people were killed. Winston Churchill announced that Britain had developed its own atomic bomb. Equal pay for men and women civil servants was accepted by the government.

King George VI died; the Mousetrap opened in London's West End; and pedestrian crossings were to be marked by blinking orange beacons. BOAC announced the first scheduled airline service to be operated by a turbojet-powered aircraft – the de Havilland Comet.

A census showed that one UK household in three lacked a bath and one in 20 had no piped water. Identity cards were abolished. Charlie Chaplin's 'Limelight' was on at the cinema.

INTRODUCING OUR RE-DEVELOPED TRAINING CYCLE FOR THE NEW TERM

Our November/December Player Development Programmes are on sale now

Our development syllabus has been created by our Academy staff, focusing on developing the right environment to create a player development framework, through our technical DNA. Our team of coaches will focus on grouping players within three specific session types to promote progression and individual development:

Stage 1: Development
Stage 2: Progression
Stage 3: Advanced

Sessions will include goal scoring, defending, possession and domination. Each session is themed around a specific element of the game and our FA and UEFA-qualified coaches use inspiration from our current First Team and Academy to help develop the young players on our programmes.

We will monitor each player individually to ensure they train with players of similar abilities and ages, with the aim to progress every player through the ability levels.

Our Player Development Programmes are created within the boundaries of discipline that allows the players to demonstrate flair and individualism.

Courses run across Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at the following venues:

- Woodhouse College (North London)
- Epping St John's School (Essex)
- Sir Frederic Osborn (Hertfordshire)

Courses start on Monday October 30 and continue for seven weeks.

Every player who attends one of our courses will be entered in to a draw to win a football signed by members of the First Team!

Places are limited so avoid disappointment and book a place now:

Jeremie Mukendi battles for possession against West Ham

GRIFFITHS AT THE DOUBLE TO SINK HAMMERS

Latest news from our Under-18s as we bounce back against West Ham

Our Under-18s returned to winning ways in their first London derby of the season as we enjoyed a good 3-1 victory against West Ham United recently.

Striker Reo Griffiths led the way with a brace while defensive player Moroyin Omolabi opened his Under-18 Premier League account in sumptuous style at the Training Centre.

West Ham's Ros Harvey went close from long-range while goalkeeper Jonathan De Bie collected a couple of tame attempts from the visitors in the early stages but it took us 28 minutes to really threaten their goal – and that in turn led to the opener.

Jeremie Mukendi crossed from the right, Griffiths took a touch at the near post and initially got the ball stuck under his feet, but managed to adjust his body to convert from the angle.

De Bie made an excellent save five minutes later, diving low to his right to tip ex-Ajax youngster Anouar El Mhassani's drive onto the post and away. At the other end, Jamie Reynolds' mis-hit cross curled onto the top of the bar while defender Josh Okotcha slid in to deny Griffiths another goalscoring opportunity in the Hammers' box.

Five minutes before the break, midfielder Paris Maghoma curled a free-kick onto the upright, but he was unable to continue in the second half and was replaced by Maxi Tainio, on for his debut.

Phoenix Patterson squandered a one-on-one opportunity when he fired straight at Hammers goalkeeper Rihards Matrevics just after the resumption but Griffiths spared his blushes when his shot from just inside the area took a deflection and wrong-footed the custodian to double our lead on 52 minutes.

Patterson then forced Matrevics into action again from a free-kick before some sloppy passing around our back-line allowed Bernardo Rosa to run onto the ball and fire West Ham back into the contest with 21 minutes remaining.

Three minutes later, though, an exquisite strike from Omolabi sealed the deal. Patterson's corner curled towards him and the 17-year-old ran onto it, burying the ball past Matrevics with a right-footed volley from 12 yards out.

"We're pleased with the win," said coach Scott Parker. "The game was good in spells – we started quite slowly but after that we got the goal and played some nice football. The second half was a bit up and down though.

"There were certain parts that were nine out of 10 and other parts that were two out of 10. I suppose that's youth team football at the moment but it's about trying to get that consistency."

Our Under-18s' previous game ended in another narrow defeat as we fell to a late goal against Reading at their Hogwood Park training facility.

Having lost 1-0 at home to Aston Villa the weekend before, we found ourselves on the wrong end of the same scoreline against the previously winless Royals after a display which was lethargic at times and we didn't really subject Reading to much of a threat until the latter stages of the game.

Reading goalkeeper Liam Driscoll was tested by striker Rodel Richards inside 20 seconds before making a double save from Jeremie Mukendi and then Richards again with four minutes gone as we did make a bright start.

The remainder of the first period was largely a non-event though. Paris Maghoma blasted a free-kick into the wall, while Royals striker Shamar Moore glanced just off-target as half-time approached.

The hosts began the second period strongly and we had an early let-off as goalkeeper Jonathan De Bie got down low to his left to save Jordan Holsgrove's shot before Max Statham blocked Jamal Balogun's effort on the line.

De Bie kept out a speculative low shot from Holsgrove, Mukendi slid just wide for us following an excellent team move while Jack Nolan dragged across goal and wide on the counter as both sides traded chances.

The hosts made the breakthrough with eight minutes left. After right-back Tariq Hinds made a good block to deny Conor Lawless at the near post, the resulting corner was swung in and Ethan Coleman was first to it, nodding down into the net.

Pressure followed from us as we tried to find a way back with Armando Shashoua unable to convert, but our best chance came on 89 minutes when Statham recycled a free-kick and crossed from the right, Dilan Markanday got a slight touch but it wasn't enough to steer the ball in as it sailed inches wide of the far post.

"The results haven't been there lately and to be honest, nor have the performances," commented coach Scott Parker after the game. "Today was not a reflection on what we want or how we want to play, I thought we were second best to everything, I didn't think we had that real work ethic and they were more hungry than us, which hurts me to say because it's not one of my traits so it's obviously very disappointing."

ACADEMY PROFILE:
MAXI TAINIO (CENTRAL MIDFIELD / RIGHT-BACK)

Born: May 24, 2001, in Auxerre, France.
Last school: The Finnish National School in Helsinki.

Any representative honours?
I play for Finland at Under-17 level.

When did you first start training for Spurs?
This summer at the start of pre-season. It's been great so far. It's a big change to what I've been used to but it's a fantastic experience.

Who do you like to watch in training in our first team and why? I like watching Toby Alderweireld. His passing is brilliant, he knows how to spread the ball and his all-round defending is excellent.

Which overseas league do you follow closest and which players from it do you most appreciate? I used to live in France so I watch a bit of Ligue 1. I'm a fan of Adrien Rabiot at Paris Saint-Germain – he's very good with the ball, he's calm and he always knows where to pass it next. He's a brilliant midfielder.

Any other sports men or women in your family?
I think the Spurs fans will know my dad, Teemu, who played here for three years until 2008.

First family holiday?
To Dubai when I was three years old.

If you could meet anyone famous outside of football, who would it be and why?
Rory McIlroy. I love golf and he's had a brilliant career so I look up to him.

Which social media platform do you use most? Snapchat.

FIFA or Call of Duty? FIFA.

Golf or shopping? Golf.

Smart or casual? Smart.

What do you do to chill out on a day off?
Usually just play FIFA.

If not a footballer what would you like to be?
A golfer.

PREMIER LEAGUE 2 • FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13 • HOTSPUR WAY

SPURS 1 - 1 LEICESTER CITY

(Shashoua 65) (Hughes 35)

Premier League 2

Spurs: Whiteman, Marsh, Bennetts, Skipp, C Maghoma, Tanganga, S Shashoua, Pritchard (Harrison 61), Sterling (Tracey 81), Edwards, Amos. Substitutes (not used): Austin, Loft, Roles.

Leicester City: Bramley, Pascanu (Eppiah 70), Wood, Hughes, Knight, Johnson, Choudhury, Dewsbury-Hall (Kaba Sherif 46), Muskwe, Thomas, Gordon (Ndukwu 81). Substitutes (not used): Iversen, Martis.

SHASHOUA'S STRIKE SECURES A POINT

Samuel Shashoua's second-half equaliser halted Leicester City's winning run in a sometimes frustrating Premier League 2 outing at Hotspur Way last Friday afternoon.

Leicester arrived having claimed the scalps of Chelsea, Hertha Berlin, Carlisle United and Barnsley in their last four fixtures in all competitions – their 1-0 victory at League Two Carlisle in the Checkatrade Trophy earlier this month of particular note.

But, after they started reasonably well and took the lead, we found a way to largely nullify the Foxes' direct approach, leaving the way clear for us to impose our style on the game after the break and ultimately collect a point from the fixture.

The visitors had a golden chance to take a ninth-minute lead when skipper Hamza Choudhury could only glance his stooping header wide from six yards out, while at the other end, Kazaiah Sterling was played through on goal by Marcus Edwards, but City goalkeeper Max Bramley blocked his shot.

Leicester found a breakthrough 10 minutes before the break as Connor Wood crossed from the left and Alfie Whiteman couldn't keep out Sam Hughes' powerful header into the top corner.

Bramley wasn't unduly troubled by a couple of Edwards free-kicks from the outskirts of the box at the start of the second half while Choudhury continued to ask questions of our defence with long throws into the area. But we fashioned an equaliser on 65 minutes when Edwards picked up the ball just inside the box and fed Shashoua, whose first shot was saved by Bramley but the attacker tapped in the loose ball from close range. Leicester's threat had tailed off by this point and we were looking the most likely to side to snatch a winner.

Joe Pritchard gets the better of Leicester's Connor Wood

Japhet Tanganga saw his header from a corner blocked on the line, Bramley instinctively saved Sterling's first-time shot from Shashoua's cross from the left with his foot and Shayon Harrison's left-footed strike from 16 yards was also kept out by the stopper as we looked to steal the points, but that goal never materialised.

"We knew it was going to be a competitive game and that we had to be ready to fight and, at times, we did well," said coach Wayne Burnett.

"We know our game, our identity and we're not going to change that for anyone. We have to be brave and I thought we did that. We kept playing our way, tried to do the right things in terms of how we play and I thought at times we were in control and dominated the game.

"Leicester were always going to be a threat because of the way they play. They put the ball in the box at every opportunity and sometimes it's difficult but you have to keep defending that and that's what we needed to do better at certain points."

CHECKATRADE TROPHY • TUESDAY, OCTOBER 3 • CHERRY RED RECORDS STADIUM

AFC WIMBLEDON 4 - 3 SPURS

(Sibbick 19, 60, Kaja 38, Parrett 90+2) (Tracey 16, Shashoua 34, Sterling 59)

SICK AS A PARRETT AT LATE, LATE WINNER

Kazaiah Sterling (right) celebrates his goal against AFC Wimbledon with Keanan Bennetts

Ex-Spurs Academy product Dean Parrett scored the winner against us as our Under-21s surrendered a lead three times before succumbing to a stoppage-time defeat in our first ever meeting with AFC Wimbledon in the Checkatrade Trophy recently.

Playing our second game in Group F, we more than matched up to the League One hosts, who named a full XI of players with Football League experience, four of whom featured in their goalless draw with Rochdale the previous weekend – a game watched by a group of our lads in preparation for our trip to the Cherry Red Records Stadium.

Indeed, the scouting report provided to the group by skipper Joe Pritchard, Ryan Loft, Oliver Skipp and George Marsh paid dividends for large parts of the contest as we took the game to the Dons and carved out three good goals.

"WE KNOW OUR GAME, OUR IDENTITY AND WE'RE NOT GOING TO CHANGE THAT"

But each time we conceded swiftly at the other end before Parrett, who played four first team games for us in Europe between 2009 and 2011, glanced home a late, late winner.

It means we're still on one point in the group and in need of a win against Barnet in November, while hoping Luton Town drop points against the Dons, who are already through, if we're to stand a chance of progressing to the next stage.

After a positive start to the game, it came as no surprise when we took a 16th-minute lead as Shilow Tracey showed tremendous composure to exchange passes with Kazaiah Sterling before dispatching a low shot confidently past Joe McDonnell.

Unfortunately, we were only ahead for three minutes as the Dons won a corner, skipper Paul Robinson's header was blocked on the line and the ball fell kindly for Toby Sibbick to nod home from three yards out.

The equaliser didn't seem to adversely affect us and we fashioned a brilliant second goal on 34 minutes when Keanan Bennetts swept along the left touchline, leaving three players in his wake before cutting back for Shashoua to apply an equally tidy first-time finish into the bottom corner

But we were pegged back just four minutes later when the ball fell to Egli Kaja to drill through a congested area from just inside the box.

After a low shot from Kaja went straight at Brandon Austin, the excellent Bennetts engineered another goal for us as he tricked his way past his marker down our left, scampered into the box and squared for Sterling to convert from six yards, just before the hour mark.

Incredibly, we still couldn't hold onto the lead though and the home side swiftly drew level, Sibbick netting his second of the game with a low finish past Austin.

Our keeper then denied Alfie Egan and Lyle Taylor as the hosts finished strongly, grabbing the winner right at the end. Parrett, who left us for Stevenage in 2013 after a series of loan spells, was introduced off the bench in the home side's final change on 64 minutes and duly came back to haunt us in the second minute of added time, flicking home a cross from the left to steal maximum points for his side.

"I'm disappointed with the result but not with the performance," said coach Wayne Burnett. "I thought we played very well at times, played some decent football and created some chances. I know the AFC Wimbledon manager (Neal Ardley), he put out a strong team but we've competed with them and we're pleased about that."

Bianca Baptiste celebrates her goal against Bristol City

LADIES MARCH ON WITH MILESTONE WIN

The records continue to fall for Spurs Ladies, who achieved their first-ever win against top flight opposition with victory over Bristol City last week in the Women's Super League Continental Tyres Cup.

Even better, it was done with a different approach and system, a disciplined 4-3-1-2 to counter Bristol City's threats – a team packed with internationals who pushed Arsenal all the way in a 1-1 draw in WSL 1 in their previous game.

Lauren Pickett and Bianca Baptiste scored the goals to secure our 2-0 success with the team further boosted by a first start in almost a year for striker Katie O'Leary, back from a serious knee injury.

"We made six changes, set out a more compact system and executed the game plan," said manager Karen Hills. We went with new system, stayed solid and both Hannah MacKenzie and Maya Vio were outstanding.

Hannah Mackenzie slides in to make a tackle against Bristol

"Bristol are a dangerous team but we didn't allow them any space and we were a threat on the break with the pace of Bianca and Lauren.

"It was so positive as it's not really a system or style we've looked to play over the last couple of seasons. It was also great to see Katie back after injury."

This was our first match in the group stage of the cup competition and the win at Cheshunt FC was our third on the spin.

We started on the front foot and Baptiste saw her shot saved low down by Aimee Watson before Josie Green fired wide five minutes later.

Bristol found momentum as the game developed and Chloe Morgan made a smart save to deny Charlie Estcourt while Renee Hector's last-ditch challenge inside the area ensured Julie Biesmans' shimmy towards goal was stopped in its tracks. We took the lead on 41 minutes after Baptiste's left-sided cross was inadvertently sent towards goal by centre-back Lorca van de Putte and Watson could only palm out to Pickett to guide home.

The second goal arrived on 66 minutes when O'Leary's pass sent Baptiste away for a one-on-one and she slotted calmly past Watson.

The visitors threatened in the closing stages through Millie Turner and Lauren Hemp, but we stayed strong defensively and held out for a famous win.

Goalmouth action against the Bees

Spurs: Morgan, McLean, Schillaci, Hector, Neville, MacKenzie, Vio, Green (Martin 71), O'Leary (Haines 85), Pickett (Wiltshire 59), Baptiste. Substitutes (not used): Wayne, Leon.

Back in league action the weekend before, Spurs Ladies achieved another notable result as we recorded our first away win in the Women's Super League against London Bees.

The team have taken positives from each of their first three matches in the league and on this occasion, it was holding onto a victory under pressure against their London rivals.

Wendy Martin, a prolific goalscorer for the team over the years, opened her account at this level with a double in the first half to lay the foundations for an inaugural away win in WSL 2.

However, Bees pulled a goal back before the break and it took some stout defending from skipper Jenna Schillaci and her defensive unit to see the team over the finish line.

"We took our foot off the gas a little at 2-0 and it was a lesson that we can't afford to do that at this level," said manager Karen Hills.

"It was a strange game because we started so well and got in such a great position but they came on strong in the second half and we had to defend well.

"We've had three very different games so far, all close, all difficult and this one showed we are capable of winning matches when we've not been at our best, so that's another positive."

Spurs: Wayne, Leon, Schillaci, Hector, Neville, Green, Mclean, Haines (Vio 74), Martin, Baptiste (O'Leary 88), Wiltshire (Pickett 68). Substitute (not used) Morgan.

"THIS ONE SHOWED WE ARE CAPABLE OF WINNING MATCHES WHEN WE'VE NOT BEEN AT OUR BEST"

PUNJABI SPURS HOST SPECIAL NIGHT

An evening of live music, dancers and two Spurs legends – what a way to round off a perfect day!

Following our win against Bournemouth last Saturday, Punjabi Spurs hosted a dinner and dance to celebrate Diwali and there was a cracking atmosphere among the guests.

A dance troupe and live band provided some excellent entertainment and the night was rounded off with some nostalgic stories from Spurs greats and special guests Micky Hazard and Ossie Ardiles.

UAE SPURS IN TOWN

WELCOME TO TODAY'S MATCH SPONSORS

MATCH SPONSOR: ON COURSE FOUNDATION

Today's match is sponsored by Duncan Sinclair on behalf of the On Course Foundation, a registered charity based in Richmond that supports the recovery of injured Service personnel and veterans through golf.

Founded in 2010 with the support and endorsement of the R&A, On Course Foundation plays a vital role in the recovery process and transition phase of wounded Service personnel and veterans as they look to return to normal life from a position where they once struggled to see hope in their future.

Its mission is to restore confidence and build self-belief within an environment that promotes camaraderie among its members who, following their life-changing injuries, can engage in a sport that, thanks to its handicapping system, allows them to participate on a level playing field with everyone else and looks to source meaningful employment opportunities for them within golf and its related industries.

This is achieved by organising a programme of nationwide golf activities where members receive tuition from advanced PGA professionals and attend employment presentations from industry leaders to discuss potential opportunities within their individual areas of expertise – all delivered in a relaxed setting alongside others who share a common bond.

Jimmy Dimmock's name was written indelibly into our history for far more than one goal, albeit a goal that won the FA Cup. He was one of the finest players ever to appear for Spurs, a local lad who fulfilled every boy's dream of starring for his local club, idolised by young and old alike.

Edmonton born, Dimmock was a schoolboy star who played for several local clubs but was always closely watched by Spurs. He was first associated with the club during the First World War while still at school and signed as an amateur immediately he turned 18. As the Great War was still coming to an end and clubs were not running reserve sides, we allowed Dimmock to play for Clapton Orient. He was soon showing the talents that were to make him so special and within six months we had signed him to a professional contract to ward off interest from Orient and Arsenal.

He made his League debut in October, 1919, when Jimmy Chipperfield was injured, and opened his goalscoring account for us in a 5-2 defeat of Nottingham Forest at the Lane the following month.

He did return to the reserves for a while but, when called up a month later to stand in for Chipperfield again, performed so well that he made the outside-left berth his own and kept it for the next 12 years. Untouched by too much coaching, Dimmock was a natural winger. He got the ball, faced his full-back, beat him and headed for the touchline before delivering a cross. It was simple and perfect for the style of football we played in the immediate post-war years, as we strolled to the Second Division title.

We did not find it quite so easy in the top division but for Dimmock, the step up was no problem. He flourished against the best players in the country, showing that he was a player destined for the highest honours. The first of those came on April 9, 1921, when he lined up for England against Scotland. A fortnight later at a rain-sodden Stamford Bridge, he burst through the Wolves defence to score with a scorching left-foot drive from the edge of the area to bring the FA Cup back to the South for the first time since we had won it in 1901. Still only 20, Dimmock was a star.

A natural genius, stylish and elegant, he was blessed with every attribute a winger needed; speed, vision, two good feet and mesmeric dribbling skills. His balance was perfect. He could stop dead in his tracks, feint to go one way and then move the other as his marker tackled empty space. Inside or out, it mattered not.

> A NATURAL GENIUS, HE WAS BLESSED WITH EVERY ATTRIBUTE A WINGER NEEDED

Outside he would make for the touchline before firing in a dangerous centre, inside he would head for goal before unleashing a vicious shot with either foot.

As we struggled Dimmock became increasingly popular, the one player who could lift the fans as well as the team. It placed an extra burden on his slim shoulders but he revelled in the responsibility, increasing his goal output and becoming the first Spurs' player to score 100 Football League goals.

By that stage he had already become an early member of the '100 Club', achieving his century of goals in all competitions in March, 1929, when he scored in a 2-2 draw away to Preston North End in Division Two.

It was against the same opponents that his final goal was scored, fittingly in the FA Cup, as we enjoyed a 3-1 home win in January, 1931. As he entered his 30s, the buffetings Dimmock had taken from opponents who could only stop him by foul means began to take effect. He still had the skill but had lost the quick burst of speed that was so important.

In modern times he might have moved into a midfield berth but in the 1930s, few players strayed far from the roles in which they had made their name. At the end of the 1930-31 season Dimmock was released. He was gone but never forgotten.

WELCOME

A warm welcome to the following Spurs fans:

MATTHEW VINING, attending his first Spurs game this afternoon and has come over from his home in Johannesburg in South Africa.

AINNUR RAHELA, who has travelled over from Kuala Lumpur in Malaysia for today's match and is also preparing for her forthcoming marriage. Good luck for the future!

'T' IMMANUEL and his son ASHLEY, who are at this afternoon's game from their home in North Wales. 'T' suffers from sickle cell anaemia but refuses to let it get the better of him and is making the journey today to watch his team play.

LAURA SUTTON, who is attending her first-ever football match today as part of her 10th birthday celebrations.

Season ticket holder KARL SMITH, whose favourite player was Glenn Hoddle, and is at today's game.

Eight-year-old OLIVER MARTIN and his granddad JEFF, who are attending this afternoon's match.

CORI HODGETTS, from Winnipeg in Canada, who has come over for her first Spurs game and is attending with Dave Gwilliam, his wife Lisa and Cori's nephew Joe.

Members of Coleraine Spurs Supporters' Clubs - ALAN and DARIAN MCVICKER, KYLE THOMPSON, UEL THOMPSON, BRYAN CALDWELL, WILLIS MCKAY, JOHNNY MILLER, SEAN CUNNINGHAM, DEREK CAULEY and TREVOR CAULEY – who are all at today's game.

BILL HONOUR, who has supported Spurs for over 70 years and is at today's game to celebrate his 94th birthday with his family, who have travelled over from Toronto, Canada. Bill was a staff sergeant during the Second World War and fought at Anzio during the Italian campaign. He now lives in Northolt and nothing will give him greater pleasure than seeing his team play today.

One Hotspur Bronze members VERONICA and CAROLINE and their dad MAREK MARKOWICZ, who have travelled from Stockholm for their first visit to Wembley today. They are pictured on their previous visit to White Hart Lane.

GALLERY

Six-year-old HARRISON WIDGER attended his first Spurs game when we faced Swansea City last month, coming with his grandparents as a treat and making his Spurs fan mum Debbie and dad Brian very jealous!

BIRTHDAYS

Best wishes to the following Spurs fans:

Season ticket holder KEITH RODGERS, who is celebrating his 60th birthday today and is at the game with his wife DENISE.

ROB PRICE, a One Hotspur member who is celebrating his 30th birthday and is here today with his fiancée Ashleigh Clarke.

KEN PREACHER, who celebrated his birthday on October 4.

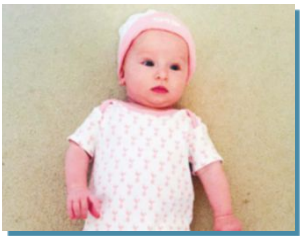
BABY SPURS

ISLA HARRIET WICKS, daughter to Chris and Stacy, was born on July 27 and is a One Hotspur Dribbler.

ISABELLE ROSE HOYE was born on May 6 to proud parents David and Amanda. David has been a season ticket holder for 25 years.



ARCHIE DURRANT was born on August 24 to parents Kurt and Emily and was signed up as a One Hotspur Dribbler within an hour by his granddad Tyrone, a season ticket holder.

OBITUARIES

We were sorry to hear of the passing of the following Spurs supporters:

MO MANNAN, a member of staff who worked at the club warehouse since 1999, passed away on October 8 at the age of 50. He leaves behind his wife Afroza, son Wasim and daughter Yasmin and will be sadly missed. Missed by all his family and friends.

MALCOLM HART, a season ticket holder since the 1960s, who passed away on September 15, aged 60.

STUART HOWARD, who died last month just a matter of hours after our 3-0 win at Everton. A keen away supporter in the 1980s, he would have liked nothing better than 'to go out with an away win'. He will be sadly missed by all his friends and family in Walthamstow and South Wales.

KENNETH DANIEL MORTEN, a lifelong Liverpool supporter whose grandson Boyd Picton is a Spurs fan, died on August 12 at the age of 79. He is deeply missed by his dear wife Joan Morten and all of his family.

We would like to extend our condolences to their families and friends at this sad time.

HAPPY RETIREMENT

Best wishes to Spurs supporter RAY THOMPSON who will be retiring after completing 30 years of service in the London Fire Brigade. Enjoy your retirement!

SUPPORTING YOUNG PEOPLE INTO CONSTRUCTION JOBS

Students from a number of sixth forms in the local community were invited on to the site of our new stadium development this week as part of an initiative to inspire young people into careers within the construction industry.

The club is committed to supporting local people into employment and has already created over 1,000 new jobs through its new stadium scheme, kick-starting the regeneration of the area.

Over the course of three days, the students, aged 16-18, participated in workshops delivered by Tottenham Hotspur Foundation in partnership with the Construction Youth Trust and Mace, the Main Contractor for the development of the Club's new stadium.

Participants got the chance to put their questions to professionals from Mace working on the stadium build including civil and structural engineers, project managers, quantity surveyors and construction managers, providing an insight into career paths within the industry.

This was followed by practical team-based activities related to construction and a range of employability skills workshops to prepare young people for interviews and entering the workplace. Of the 20 students attending the programme, five will be offered the chance to complete a one-week work placement opportunity with Mace and its suppliers in line with the students' specified area of interest.

An estimated 3,000 construction jobs are expected to have been delivered by the time our new stadium opens.

Donna Cullen, Executive Director at the club, said: "We're thrilled to be working in partnership with the Construction Youth Trust and Mace to deliver this exciting opportunity to local young people.

"There is a wealth of career prospects in the construction industry and we want to ensure that youngsters living in the local community are not only aware of these opportunities but also have the skills, knowledge and experience to successfully secure a job in this field.

"Using our network of partners, we will be delivering more workshops like this as part of our continued commitment to supporting local people into work."

Graham Barter, Mace Project Director, said: "Mace and the Mace Foundation are committed to inspiring young people by helping to break down the barriers to employment.

"We've been working with Construction Youth Trust for many years delivering Budding Brunels programmes to demonstrate the diverse range of careers in the construction industry.

"It's been a great opportunity to work with Tottenham Hotspur Foundation and engage with local young people to give them an insight into creating a major sports and entertainment landmark on their doorstep. Hopefully we've inspired these young people to consider a career in the construction industry."

JUNIOR MEMBERS MEET THEIR SPURS HEROES

WHAT A DAY IT WAS FOR THESE ONE HOTSPUR JUNIOR MEMBERS AS THEY MET BEN, MICHEL AND FERNANDO AT OUR HOTSPUR WAY TRAINING CENTRE.

Five lucky One Hotspur Junior Members got a look behind the scenes for a very special filming shoot with three Spurs players.

Jamie Loveday, aged three, Callum Bryant (three), Lily Nash (six), Zack Bryant (nine) and 13-year-old Sonny Rogers all took centre stage in front of the Spurs TV cameras.

Jamie shows off her welcome pack with two new friends

We'd asked them along to film the unveiling of this year's Junior welcome packs. The indoor astro-turf pitch at our Training Centre was the venue, as the players chatted to the Juniors about this year's packs.

They got changed into their kits for the day and while they waited for their cue, Mauricio even came over to say hello and pose for some photos.

Ben and Zack are all smiles

Then, once the cameras started rolling all the butterflies disappeared and a great day was rounded off with a selection of autographs and selfies. The Juniors also received a Spurs goody bag.

QUESTION TIME

A quick quiz to keep you busy during half-time...how many questions can you get right on our previous matches and club connections with today's opponents.

QUICK SIX

1. We played Liverpool no fewer than six times in three different competitions in the 1972-73 season. Name the competitions?

2. Which player scored at both ends in our 2-1 win over the Reds at White Hart Lane in November, 2012?

3. Seven players made their Spurs debuts in our season opener against Liverpool in August, 2004 – can you name them all?

4. Which two players in our current squad have scored more than one goal against Liverpool for us?

5. We've only ever played Liverpool here at Wembley Stadium once before, in the League Cup Final, but in which year?

6. Name the former Spurs Academy graduate who played twice against us for Liverpool last season?

MISSING MEN...

Here's our starting line-up from our 1-0 win against Liverpool at Anfield in March, 1985, but who are the missing players?

CAREER PATH

Can you name the former Liverpool and Spurs player whose other clubs included Bayern Munich, AC Milan and Borussia Monchengladbach?

WHO SCORED?

Name our goalscorers who found the target in our 4-0 win over Liverpool at White Hart Lane in September, 2011 – one of them netted a brace.

GOALS GALORE...

We played Liverpool three times in the 1998-99 season, including one League Cup tie, with 12 goals scored across the three matches. How many did we score?

FROM THE ARCHIVES

Action from our November, 1994, clash with Liverpool, but can you identify the three main players pictured?

ANSWERS - Missing Men: Hughton, Hoddle. Career Path: Christian Ziege. Who Scored: Luka Modric, Jermain Defoe and Emmanuel Adebayor (2). Goals Galore: Seven. From The Archives: Colin Calderwood, Ian Walker and Robbie Fowler. Quick Six: 1. Division One, League Cup (with a replay) and UEFA Cup (two-legged semi-final); 2. Gareth Bale; 3. Paul Robinson, Phil Ifil, Nourredine Naybet, Erik Edman, Pedro Mendes, Sean Davis, Thimothee Atouba; 4. Harry Kane and Jan Vertonghen; 5. 1982 6. Kevin Stewart.

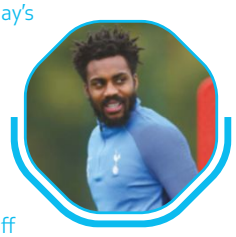
TOBY ALDERWEIRELD

Our Belgian centre-half will be in line for his 100th Spurs appearance should he feature against Liverpool this afternoon. So far, he's appeared 76 times in the Premier League, five in the FA Cup and 18 in Europe since joining from Atletico Madrid in July, 2015.

DANNY ROSE



Made his first appearance of the season in Tuesday's 1-1 draw against Real Madrid. The England international hadn't featured since picking up an injury away to Sunderland in the league on January 31, but came off the bench for the final 10 minutes in Spain.

Terry Venables welcomes Paul Stewart and Paul Gascoigne to the club

WEMBLEY MEMORIES

Each matchday, Andy Greeves speaks to a former Spurs player about their memories of Wembley Stadium during their career. This afternoon, Paul Stewart looks back on his goal for us here in the FA Cup Final of 1991.

Shortly after signing for us from Manchester City in the summer of 1988, Paul Stewart made two of his earliest appearances in a Spurs shirt in the Wembley International Tournament. He played the full 90 minutes of both our 4-0 defeat to Arsenal here on August 13 and our 2-1 loss to AC Milan at the same venue the following day.

"There wasn't the same edge about those matches that you'd get for a competitive game, but it was still very special for me to play at Wembley for the first time," comments Paul, who went on to make 171 appearances and score 37 goals for us through until 1992. "Seeing the twin towers of the old stadium as we arrived on the team coach and the fans walking up Wembley Way was every bit as incredible as you could have imaged it as a youngster."

Stewart's competitive debut for us came in a 2-2 draw with Manchester United at White Hart Lane on October 1, 1988, during a season in which we finished sixth in the Division One table. He quickly became a regular in our starting line-up, scoring 13 goals in 35 appearances that term and netting nine times in 35 matches in 1989-90 as we secured a third-place finish in the league.

> “SOME OF THE FOOTBALL WE PLAYED AGAINST ARSENAL WAS AS GOOD AS I’D EXPERIENCED. EVERY PLAYER WAS EXCEPTIONAL”

The versatile player missed just three league matches for us during the 1990-91 season and featured in all but one of our FA Cup match en route to the final. That included a start in our famous 3-1 victory over Arsenal in the semi-final here on April 14, 1991.

“There was a really good mood in the camp going into that game… we were well up for it,” remembers Paul, who scored our winner against his former club Blackpool in the third round of the competition that season. “Arsenal were strong favourites as they were having a fantastic league campaign and had all but won the title by that stage.

“There was a story flying about – that I’ve since discovered wasn’t true – about Arsenal having already recorded their cup final song. We were even more fired up for the game thinking that was the case. Gazza opened the scoring with his fantastic free-kick. I was in the Arsenal wall as he struck it and it was amazing to see it fly into the back of the net.

Paul celebrates his equaliser in the 1991 FA Cup Final

“From there on, we really dominated the match. Some of the football we played, especially in the first half, was as good as I’d experienced during my time at Tottenham. It’s rare that each player produces their ‘A’ game so to speak in one particular match, but that was the case that day. Every player was exceptional.”

Our victory over the Gunners saw us return to the national stadium for the FA Cup Final against Nottingham Forest. Stewart again started, wearing the number seven shirt for us that afternoon.

“The final was branded as the ‘Clough versus Gazza final,” says Stewart. “The FA Cup remained the only major trophy Forest manager Brian Clough hadn’t won during his career while Paul Gascoigne was probably the most high-profile player in the country at the time.”

Disaster struck early in the match as Gascoigne suffered a serious knee injury in a poorly-timed challenge on Forest defender Gary Charles. England international corner and that ultimately proved the winner for us.

"When the final whistle sounded, that's when the realisation struck home about what we'd achieved. It was an incredible feeling going up those magical steps at Wembley and lifting the cup."

Ourselves and Stewart returned to Wembley Stadium on August 10, 1991, to compete in the FA Charity Shield against Arsenal – a match that finished 0-0. A few months later, the Manchester-born player made the first of his three senior appearances for England, featuring in the Three Lions' international friendly with West Germany here on September 11, 1991.

"Myself and Paul Merson came off the bench with about 20 minutes of the match to make our England debuts," recalls Stewart. "It was another childhood dream left-back Stuart Pearce hammered the resulting free-kick beyond Erik Thorstvedt to put the East Midlanders one-up. Meanwhile, Gascoigne was stretchered off to be replaced by substitute Nayim.

Gazza's moment of glory against Arsenal

"For a long time in that final, it didn't look like it was going to be our day," reflects Stewart. "After Gazza's injury and Pearce's free-kick, we then had a perfectly good goal disallowed and Links (Gary Lineker) had a penalty saved by Mark Crossley. I imagined at that stage people were thinking Forest's name was on the cup, but I wasn't prepared to accept that. It had been a real journey getting to the final and just because we had lost Paul, I knew we still had it in us to go on and win the game."

With that determination in mind, it was Stewart who brought us back into the match with a firmly struck shot on 55 minutes.

"I think that goal gave us the momentum to go on and win that final," adds Paul. "As the game went on, you could start to see some of the Nottingham Forest players getting tired. Paul Walsh hit the bar early on in extra-time and then minutes later, Des Walker headed into the back of his own net from our realised to play for your country, especially with it being at Wembley Stadium and against such top opposition."

In the summer of 1992, Paul signed for Liverpool and lined-up in that year's FA Charity Shield against Leeds United. He scored three times in 42 appearances for the Reds through until 1995, also spending loan periods with Crystal Palace, Wolverhampton Wanderers, Burnley and Sunderland during his time at Anfield. After signing for Sunderland permanently in 1995, he was on the move again two years later, joining Stoke City. He retired from playing in 2000 after two seasons with non-league side Workington.

Paul Stewart was talking to Andy Greeves shortly after the release of his moving autobiography Damaged: My Story – on sale from Amazon and all good book shops.
